

An Online Evolving Platform for Groundwater Knowledge & Learning

- A Not-For-Profit Corporation, registered in Canada
- Received charity status in 2021
- Administered at the University of Guelph, ON, Canada
- President & Chair: John Cherry, Stockholm Water Prize Laureate, 2020, Lee Kwan Yew Water Prize (Singapore), 2016.
- Governed by a seven-person board of directors
- Over 1000 volunteers: book authors, reviewers, topic editors, translators, from over 200 organizations in 27 countries (6 continents)
- Publishes original peer-reviewed books and related materials (videos, exercises)
- All publications are made available free-of-charge through the GW-Project website: GW-PROJECT.ORG

Our philosophy is that groundwater knowledge should be democratized meaning that there should be full and free accessibility to good quality knowledge and the ability to share this knowledge. Our focus is everyone, across the Globe, to strengthen resources and expertise in developed and developing economies.

THE GW-PROJECT FRAMEWORK

GW-Project Books in Many Domains and at Different Depths of Treatment (and translations)

STAY INFORMED

Sign Up To Our Mailing List

Stay informed about new book releases, events, and ways to participate in the Groundwater Project.

SIGN UP

When you sign up to our email list it helps us build a global groundwater community.

Visit: <https://gw-project.org/books/> for all our books (copyrighted – free downloadable PDF books and webooks).

+ MANY MORE

SCAN ME

